1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-21, drawn to a handguard including first and second grip halves and a cover, classified in class 42, subclass 143.
 - II. Claims 22-24, drawn to a handguard including a particular mounting apparatus, classified in class 42, subclass 96.
 - III. Claims 25-26, drawn to a rail cover including post engaging members, classified in class 42, subclass 124.
2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because:
3. Inventions I and II are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention I could be used with a different type of mounting apparatus or absent a mounting apparatus and invention II could be used absent a cover (see claim 22). See MPEP § 806.05(d).
4. Inventions I and III are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention I could be used absent a post engaging member and invention III could be used with a handguard that does not contain first and second mating halves. See MPEP § 806.05(d).
5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification and/or their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

7. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the gas return tube; rifle barrel; receiver; and the front-sight/gas return tube assembly must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

8. Claims 22-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 22, line 1, use of the phrase "of the type" extends the scope of the claim language such that the meets and bounds of the claim are indefinite. How similar to a handguard must a device be to infringe the claims?

9. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 3641

10. Claims 25-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Spinner in view of Faifer (321 B2).

Spinner discloses a cover in combination with a handgun mounting rail comprising:

- a) a rail having two rows of opposing posts and a guide channel; 3, 5, 7, 9
- b) a body; 11
- c) a generally flat top portion with outwardly extending sides; 11 (fig. 8)
- d) lips; and 17, 19
- e) post engaging members. 2, 21

Spinner applies as recited above. However, undisclosed is a body that is composed of flexible rubber. Faifer (321 B2) teaches a body that is composed of flexible rubber 20. Applicant is substituting one material type of cover for another in an analogous art setting as explicitly encouraged by both references (see col. 7, lines 57-65 of Spinner and/or col. 4, lines 47-61 of Faifer 321 B2). It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in this art at the time of the invention to apply the teachings of Faifer (321 B2) to the Spinner cover and mounting rail combination and have a cover body made of a different material type.

11. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

12. Claims 22-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Sweeney.

Sweeney discloses a handguard mounting apparatus comprising:

Art Unit: 3641

- | | |
|--|----------------------------------|
| a) a ring of generally hexagonal shape; and | see periphery of 23 (figs. 5, 7) |
| b) a series of semi-arcuate engagement tabs. | 83, 84 |

13. Claim 24 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sweeney in view of Bredbury et al..

Sweeney applies as previously recited. However, undisclosed are 6 peripheral engagement tabs. Bredbury et al. teach 6 peripheral engagement tabs 52, 54, 56. Applicant is substituting one number of engagement tabs for another in an analogous art setting. It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in this art at the time of the invention to apply the teachings of Bredbury et al. to the Sweeney handguard mounting apparatus and have a mounting apparatus with a different number of engagement tabs.

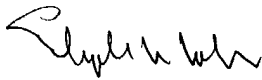

14. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Stoner discloses another state of the art handguard assembly.

15. Claims 1-21 are allowed.
